RARE BUTTERFLIES

A butterfly that disappeared from Scotland nearly 150 years ago may now have re-colonised the south of the country.

The comma has become extinct in Scotland for more than a century.

The comma was last recorded in 1889.

PAKISTAN JOINS BAN ON CHINA’S TIKTOK

Pakistan has blocked the video-sharing social media app TikTok, citing alleged security threats.

The ban comes after TikTok banned 275 videos from Pakistan.

The ban is expected to have a significant impact on Pakistan’s internet users.

Biographer of Joan Baez on her Scottish connections

Joan Baez met Bob Dylan in 1965

On a Sunday evening in Edinburgh, the 35-year-old Dylan was playing a set at the City Hall.

The church that is home to the last few of Scotland’s Presbyterian and Free Church congregations, St John’s Church in Edinburgh, was holding a free concert.

Dylan performed a set of songs that would go on to become classics, including “Like a Rolling Stone” and “Suzanne.”
